Director of Training

Intermediate Intelligence Course (Scientific)

1. Upon the completion of the third offering of subject course I wish to thank you for the contribution you have made to the curriculum. Your informative and interesting presentation of problems associated with the exploitation of sources in intelligence research has been very well received. The students appreciate the frankness and informality of your seminar discussion.

2. The course will be offered again later this summer and I hope you will be available for a repeat performance.
